

DIXON GAS SUPPLY SHUT OFF WITH SHORT WARNING

American Troops Stand on Arms on Mex Border

MAN CLAIMS HE WAS ATTACKED: THROAT IS CUT

Stranger Appealed to Dixon Police for Assistance.

George Eppe, aged 39, claiming Philadelphia as his home, walked into the police station last evening about 9 o'clock, blood running from two gaping wounds on each side of his neck, and asked to be given attention. Officer Seagren was at the station and took the man to the county jail, where he was turned over to Deputy Miller. The deputy observed the man's condition and at once summoned a physician, who upon his arrival, dressed the wounds, which required several stitches to close.

When his wounds had been dressed, Eppe told a story of a struggle for his life with two Italians in a box car on the Northwestern after leaving the Nelson yards. According to his story, he had been working for the railroad at the East Clinton yards and had received his pay, amounting to more than $35. Yesterday morning he climbed into an empty box car of an east bound freight and as the train pulled out of the yards, two foreigners also climbed into the car.

When the train was pulling out of the Nelson yards, Eppe claims that he was attacked by the two strangers who demanded his money. He had $35 in his possession and fought off his two assailants, who slashed at his throat with a sharp knife. He was finally overpowered, his money taken and bleeding profusely from deep gashes on both sides of his neck, he was kicked out of the car while the train was in motion.

HIRAM ROBBED IN NEW JERSEY VERDON CHARGES

Wood Maintained a Slight Lead in Today's Returns

BULLETIN.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Newark, N. J., April 29.—With 53 districts missing Major Leonard Wood today was leading Senator Johnson of California by 672 votes in the New Jersey preferential primary contest. Revised returns at noon gave Wood 51,822 and Johnson 51,150.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Newark, N. J., April 29.—Major General Leonard Wood today maintained a lead of 612 votes over Senator Hiram W. Johnson, of California, in New Jersey's preferential presidential primary with 84 election districts still missing. The vote was: Wood, 51,402; Johnson, 50,790.

The complete vote probably will not be available until late today. Seventy-four of the missing districts are in counties which have returned majorities for Wood in the incomplete returns.

The Republican "big four" delegation to the Chicago convention will be Senators Walter E. Edge and Joseph W. Frelinghuysen, who are pledged to support the voters' choice as expressed at the primary; Edward C. Stokes and William N. Runyon, pledged to support Wood.

Incomplete returns indicate that Wood will have eleven district delegates and Johnson ten. Three delegates are pledged.

Campaign managers for both Wood and Johnson reiterated claims that their candidate would carry the state.

William P. Verdon, a Republican leader in Hoboken and worker for Johnson, would add nothing today to his charge yesterday that the California senator had been "robbed" in at least three counties, Camden, Morris and Essex.

Widespread reports that Johnson's supporters would ask for a recount could not be confirmed.

Mrs. C. D. Hart and son, Glenn, of Ashton were in Dixon Wednesday morning.

Mrs. John Cullinane, of Amboy, was among Wednesday's shoppers.

WATCH FOR SIGN OF REVOLUTION IN CITY ACROSS THE FRONTIER

Carranza's Steel Ring in Sonora Has Already Been Broken.

BULLETIN
By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, April 29.—The American cruisers Salem and Sacramento were reported today to have reached their respective destinations at Mazatlan and Tampico, where they were ordered in response to the request of American representatives in those cities that protection be afforded American life and property. Commanding officers of the two vessels had made no report today as to the situation in the two ports.

The state department announced today that George T. Summerlin, American in charge at Mexico City, who has been in Washington conferring with department officials left Laredo yesterday for the Mexican capital where he is due to arrive by the end of the week.

Official dispatches from Mexico today stated that 600 federal troops reached Vera Cruz Tuesday and were sent to Alvarado, a few miles south of Vera Cruz, where the federal garrison had revolted and looted the town.

Troops were placed near the border, provided with ammunition and instructed to establish a cordon a certain distance from the border beyond which no civilian might pass. A measure was a preventive one, to protect the city from possible stray bullets from the Mexican side. In Juarez loyal Carranza troops slept on their arms, ready for any contingency. Rumors that General J. G. Escobar and Colonel Augustin Mora at the Juarez garrison had split over the revolt question were set at rest by a joint statement that they would remain loyal to Carranza.

The most serious situation in Chihuahua early today was at Chihuahua City where revolting troops had been driven from the city last night seeking refuge in the smelter, a mile away. Senor De La O, a civilian, assumed control of the situation for Carranza and telegraphed last night that he could hold the place until reinforcements could be sent.

Villa in Negotiations

Francisco Villa, rebel chieftain, in the vicinity of Chihuahua City was reported yesterday to have opened negotiations with the revolting troops. Whether these efforts were successful was not confirmed. Villa was reported as having demanded that he be allowed to execute all federal commanders in revenge for the execution of General Felipe Angeles.

Reports from Sonora that troops sent from here to Casas Grandes for the Sonora campaign had refused to fight the Sonora troops were denied by federal Mexican authorities at Juarez.

Protects Sonorans

The Chihuahua situation has assured the Sonorans their state will not be invaded, said General Calles, who stated he expected Juarez, across the international boundary to join the revolt.

Carranza's "Steel Ring" Has Been Broken

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Agua Prieta, Sonora, April 29.—President Carranza's "steel ring" which it was announced from Mexico City he intended placing about revolutionary Sonora, has broken, part of the "ring" having joined the revolution.

In Chihuahua approximately 4,000 Carranza troops had revolted, according to an estimate by General P. Elias Calles, rebel commander in the northwest, at his headquarters here. These troops have already been in battle with loyal federal troops, General Calles said today.

Protects Sonorans

The Chihuahua situation has assured the Sonorans their state will not be invaded, said General Calles, who stated he expected Juarez, across the international boundary to join the revolt.

Mazatlan, the largest Mexican port on the Pacific coast, was reported yesterday under attack by troops under General Angelo Flores. The report had not been confirmed today.

From the heart of Mexico, in states near Mexico City, the revolution continues to grow, General Calles said, and rebels there have created a situation that prevents Carranza sending troops north.

CITY FORBIDS BIG INCREASE IN TAXI RATES

Owners Are Warned
They Must Abide by the Law

The conference between city officials and the owners of Dixon's taxicabs, held yesterday afternoon, resulted in one decision by the city fathers, that being that the present scale of prices as provided by ordinance, shall be maintained until such time as a new ordinance is drafted and passed.

Earl Watts and his legal advisor, Attorney Devine, together with several drivers were present at the meeting held in the mayor's office and a list of figures showing the approximate cost of operation of his taxi service was submitted by Mr. Watts through his attorney, sh owing that from January 3 of this year until April 3, a period of three months, he had operated at a loss of approximately $700, while charging the 25 cent fare.

Admits Taxi War
Mr. Watts admitted by charging 35 cents, as is provided in the ordinance from the hours of 6 in the morning until 10 at night and 50 cents from 10 at night until 6 in the morning that the Watts and Yellow lines have engaged in a war, and it was alleged both operated at a loss in order to carry passengers at the 25 cent rate.

At the conclusion of a lengthy debate which was heated at intervals members of the council present, notified the representatives of both lines that drivers charging the 50 cent rate between the hours of 6 in the morning and 10 at night would be arrested.

The proprietor of the Watts line stated that he had not increased the rate 100 per cent with a view of violating the ordinance, but that he had discovered that he was operating at a considerable loss and that the increase was necessary in order to continue his business.

Mayor Smith at an early stage of the meeting referred to the taxi drivers of the city, generally speaking, as being of immoral repute, and this brought on no small amount of argument.

Attorney Devine, appearing for Mr. Watts stated that the proprietor of that line was a poor business man in that he kept no books which would show his expenditures.

Mr. Watts stated himself, that unless a 50 cent fare could be arranged by the adoption of a new ordinance that he was ready to dispose of his cars and enter another line of business.

Prosecution Assured
R. A. T. McVey of the Yellow line, stated that he had been instructed by the proprietor of his line to appear before the council and ascertain what action would be taken, should the ordinance be violated by the continuation of the 50 cent charge. He was notified without hesitancy that the driver making such a charge, upon complaint and information, would be arrested.

Mr. McVey was somewhat antagonistic to the action of the members of the council in enforcing the ordinance but was notified that a continuance of violations would result in arrest and prosecution.

Increased cost of labor hire, accessories and other commodities necessary in the operation and upkeep of suitable taxi service were cited by Attorney Devine, representing Mr. Watts. It was admitted that the action of forcing the 100 per cent increase upon the public without having first consulted legal advisors of the city council was in error, and an effort will now be made to secure a higher rate, which will doubtless be considered at an early date by the city council, by drafting a new ordinance.

SUPPLY IN THE RESERVOIRS HIT DANGEROUS MARK AT AN EARLY HOUR—MAY RESUME ON FRIDAY

Sudden Curtailment of Fuel Supply Hit Many Dixon Institutions—
Telegraph Forced to Omit Markets, Advertisements and Much
"Hot" News Matter—Coal Tied Up By Switchmen's Strike.

The switchmen's strike, which brought a coal shortage, hit Dixon unexpectedly and severely during the noon hour today when the Illinois Northern Utilities Company was forced to shut off the gas supply because of the exhaustion of the supply in the reservoirs here.

It is announced that in all probability service can again be supplied about 7 o'clock tomorrow morning, but after that time and until the company is able to get more Kentucky coal, from which gas used here is made, patrons will have to be as conservative as possible in the use of gas, for the daily consumption here has averaged from 120,000 to 140,000 cubic feet, while the best production that can be relied upon with the use of Illinois coal is between 80,000 and 85,000 cubic feet.

CAME WITH LITTLE WARNING.

The action of the company in turning off the gas supply here came with little warning, for the officials had hoped to be able to maintain the service with the use of Illinois fuel mixed with Kentucky fuel now on hand.

However, during the night and early morning the consumption continued to such extent as to drain the reservoirs to the danger point, and at 10 o'clock Supt. Adams announced that it would be necessary to shut off the service at noon.

HIT TELEGRAPH HARD BLOW.

The announcement hit the Telegraph a large blow, and caused a hasty change in plans in this office. A ten-page paper had been planned for today and nearly all forms were "open" waiting for advertising and news.

Inasmuch as the linotype machines and stereotyping furnace in the office are dependent upon gas for fuel, the announcement of Mr. Adams, received at 10 o'clock caused a hasty rearrangement of plans.

All the news it was possible to put into type in the two hours was gotten up in that short time; but much good live news matter was left when it was necessary to close the forms, and readers are asked to pardon the omissions which were absolutely necessary.

Advertisers, also, are asked to pardon omission of their ads, for it was a physical impossibility to get them into type under the conditions forced upon the paper.

WARNING TO GAS PATRONS.

Gas patrons are warned to be sure that all pilot lights, gas heaters, stoves and lights are turned off and kept turned off until the service is resumed.

Mr. Adams states that the I. N. U. has several carloads of Kentucky coal on the road from the mines, and one has been located at Peoria. But the Dixon coal, like that consigned to Sterling, is tied up with several thousand carloads of freight in Peoria by the switchmen's strike.

HARDING VICTOR IN PRIMARY; HIS MANAGER FAILED

Senator Will Have at Least 39 of 48
Delegates

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Columbus, O., April 29.—Although Senator Warren G. Harding received presidential preference endorsement at the hands of the state's Republican voters Tuesday, his campaign manager, Harry M. Daugherty, apparently has been defeated for delegate-at-large to the Chicago National convention.

On the face of unofficial returns from all but 103 of the 5,832 precincts in the state, the senator was leading Major General Leonard Wood by 15,186 votes. The vote stood:

Harding 125,003; Wood 109,517.

Daugherty apparently has been defeated by William H. Boyd, Cleveland attorney and a Wood candidate. With only 159 precincts missing to-day Boyd had a lead of 1,814.

Three Harding delegates at large apparently are elected. The vote in all but 272 of the 5,832 precincts of the state showed:

Galvin, (H) 114,097; Willis, (H) 115,413; Herrick, (H) 125,596; Turner, (W) 101,542.

Indications were today that at least 39 and possibly 42 of the states 48 delegates to the Republican national convention will be pledged to Senator Harding while the remainder will be pledged to Wood.

HIRED STRANGER TO WATCH LADY LOVE'S ACTIONS; LOST ROLL

Wm. Pohle of Harmon Has His "Detective" Arrested Today.

William Pohle, of this city, retired farmer of Harmon township, was the victim of a confidence game in this city and only by his own suspicions and actions, were the police able to place under arrest Fred Lester Belt, alias E. E. Dowd, who is wanted in Chicago for operating a similar series of games. Belt was on the east bound Northwestern passenger train leaving here at 11:02 this morning when he was taken out of the train and to the police station, where he is being held.

Pohle told the police that he had been keeping company with a divorced young woman in Dixon and suspected her actions. He retained the Chicago stranger, who is also acquainted with the grass widow, to watch her actions and report to him. For these services, Pohle paid the stranger and investigator, $10 in cash and a check for $150. The two were to have met this morning when the investigator was to have reported. About that time Mr. Pohle observed his investigator making toward the depot and he started in pursuit and took him off the train.

Chief Van Bibber late yesterday received a telegram from Chief Mooney of the Chicago detective bureau, asking that he arrest Dowd, who would be found in local hotel. The full details of the case, which involves quite a number of Dixon people could not be learned at press time and will probably be brought out when Chicago authorities arrive to take Dowd back to the city.

Entrance was gained to the Clemons blacksmith shop during the night and tools were taken. The intruders gained access to the bank through a back window and from appearances worked for some time in knocking the locks off a vault door and prying the door open. The contents of the vault was ransacked and papers were scattered over the floor when the attempted robbery was discovered this morning shortly before 9 o'clock when the institution opened for business.

A bag containing $50 in pennies was untouched and shortly before noon it was announced that the loss would be very small.

Admits Attacking Girl Before Murder

BULLETIN. By Associated Press Leased Wire Pontiac, Mich., April 29.—Anson Best this morning in the presence of his attorney, Prosecutor Glenn C. Gillespie, and a number of newspapermen, repudiated the confession the prosecutor declares he made in the Vera Schneider murder case.

The prisoner maintained that his first story, told when he was stopped at the scene of the murder is the truth and that his admissions made, according to the prosecutor in the presence of several officers yesterday were all false and due to his fear of officers and fatigue from questioning.

The league will consist of six teams and games will be played at the Browns park on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, beginning at 6 o'clock and on Saturday afternoons at 3 o'clock. Officers of the league were elected as follows:

Robbers Got $1,800 While Men Stood Near

By Associated Press Leased Wire New York, April 29.—While 25 conductors and chauffeurs of the Fifth Avenue Coach company today were congregated in front of the company's office, three masked bandits entered and at the point of revolvers took $1800 from two cashiers and escaped.

Armour Co. Filed a Demurrer in Case

By Associated Press Leased Wire New York, April 29.—Lamar Hardy counsel for Armour & Co., Chicago packers today filed in Brooklyn federal court a demurrer to an indictment returned recently charging the company with profiteering in the sale of meat. The demurrer sets forth that the indictment was defective because it was not sufficiently specific, and also attacks the constitutionality of the Lever law under which it was returned. No date for argument was set.

Mr. Santelman, of Ashton, was in Dixon Wednesday morning.

Paris Fashions In False Teeth

Paris, April 29.—We may safely predict for the coming season that styles in artificial teeth include their being worn snug-fitting and smoothly cushioned in place by means of the dental plate comfort-powder Corega, procurable at drug stores and dental dealers.

This antiseptic adhesive powder gives a pleasing sense of security to wearers of false teeth. It allows complete mastication of foods with ease, relaxes facial muscles and prevents sore gums.—Adv.

Every once in so often it's a good plan to give the telephone an alcohol rub.

Alcohol is one of the most powerful antiseptics and is used by surgeons when boiling-water-for-20 minutes is out of the question. The mouthpiece needs special attention. Wring a cloth out of alcohol and wash the inside thoroughly. Do not wipe with a dry cloth but let the alcohol evaporate.

As telephone companies seem to object to the use of glass attachments one may humor the objection and keep the rubber mouthpiece perfectly sanitary by the simple expedient of using alcohol.

Dinner—Left over soup, stuffed pork tenderloin, scalloped potatoes, stewed tomatoes, combination salad, cheese course, coffee.

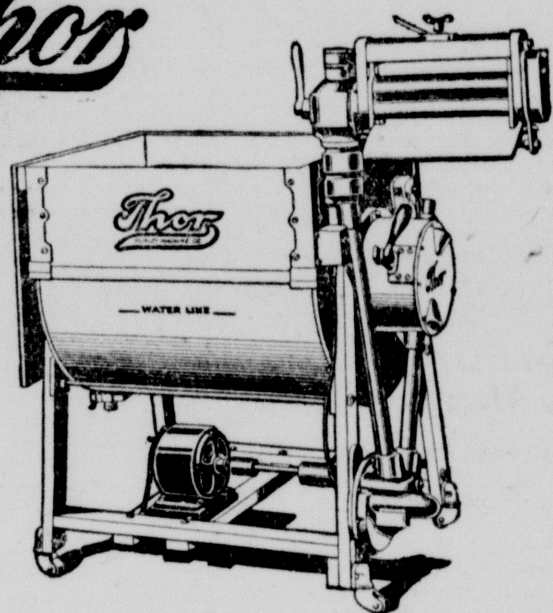

MY OWN RECIPES

A salad may be made an expensive affair containing rich oils and out of season and choice fruits or vegetables, or it may be a simple food providing minerals and tickling the palate as does the drossy luxury. Plain leaf lettuce carefully washed and dried, shredded and made into "nests" on the salad plates, with the addition of a few sliced radishes, a quarter of a teaspoonful of minced spring onion and three or four strips of green pepper makes an attractive salad with little expenditure of time or money.

SAVING SPACE.

Perhaps Evening Telegraph readers will notice space economies in the paper more often than formerly. The reader's interests will not be sacrificed, however. Headings may be condensed and an effort to eliminate waste space will be made. When the big Chicago daily newspapers are sending out editions with fewer pages than the Telegraph we do not believe our readers will question the necessity for economy here.

Print paper is not only almost prohibitive in cost but extremely difficult to secure at any price. Yesterday the quotation on roll news print in carload lots was 14½ cents per pound.
Up to January first, this year, the price was 3½ cents per pound. So you will see that in these days of high prices print paper is an aristocrat among them all.

If some one had suggested a year or so ago that we print the Telegraph on a fine grade of bond letter paper we should have countered with advice to the suggestion that he take a long rest in a sanitarium where they made a specialty of treating diseases of the brain. But we could have followed his suggestion and our paper bill would have been less than it is today.

NEW VALUES.

Human values, like other values, are being revised upward. Old furniture is selling almost at original prices and middle-aged men and crippled men are discovering in themselves unsuspected social worth.

Who does not remember the olden days before the war—one thinks of them already as days in the far past —when the middle-aged worker was regarded as one ready for the shelf?
His plight was the problem of sociological discussion.

When he applied for a job the gray on his temples spoke against him and he was turned down for a younger man.

But today he is no longer a "problem." He has been taken off the shelf and restored to usefulness. A survey of "want ads" in any newspaper will disclose such "ads" as this inserted by an industrial concern in a certain large city:

MIDDLE-AGED MEN

In Good Health

We want to talk to you. You can make good, can't you? We have faith in you and have positions suitable for men of your age, and we are willing to give you a fair trial. A man is as young as he feels.

SPRINT OUT AND SEE US.

Or this:

WANTED

ONE-ARMED OR ONE-LEGGED
MAN

To operate an elevator; good steady job.

Man-power shortage is responsible for this reclamation of human material that went to waste in the old order before the war. Though our time is out of joint, history will say to its credit that in no other time in history was such recognition given to human values.

RESPECT FOR PATCHES.

The overall movement may accomplish little—except to increase the price of overalls. It may be simply a fad, as many have characterized it, quickly born and quickly dead.

But, regardless of its nature or its results, it is indicative of one very

BRINGING UP FATHER.

important thing—a growing conviction in the minds of the people that they hold in their own hands one of the chief weapons with which to hammer down prices, that of buying power.

The campaign shows realization of the fact that refusal to buy will decrease the demand below the supply.
And oversupply must, in the long run,
bring lower prices.

One of the greatest agencies of high prices has been extravagant, reckless buying. Price has come to mean nothing to many people. Saving has become a forgotten word.

America has been on a spending
jag. Prices have never been so high, true—but neither have the sales of fancy articles, luxuries, silk shirts, jewelry, lace hose, et cetera ad infinitum, been so large.

There are signs of a changing condition. The ultimate result of a widespread overall movement would be an increasing use of old clothes, an added respect for patches, the giving up of luxury buying and the saving of money, rather than the spending of it.

Such a sentiment would be a real stride toward lower prices.

THE LEFT WING.

There is no reason for getting excited because a few radical leaders in the ranks of organized labor are trying to stampede the American workingmen. Every labor movement throughout the world has its left wing of discontent. Nature abhors unani-mity of opinion.

In Great Britain, where the Labor party is politically very strong, it is not socialistic. A left wing, consequently has developed, known as the Independent Labor party. Its program is the establishment of a socialistic society.

In Germany, where the Socialists are in power, a left wing also has developed. It is called the Independent Socialist party. It wants to establish soviet government.

In Russia, where the soviets rule, there is still a left wing. It is the Anarchist party. It is constantly working to overturn the Bolsheviks and to substitute government which is the absence of government.

If an Anarchist government is ever established anywhere, it will undoubtedly have a left wing of its own.
Probably its program will demand the execution of good babies who never cry, and the careful rearing of all howling little protestants against life.

No new phenomenon, therefore, has been created by America's left wing labor leaders. Every country has the like. It is good this should be so.
The left wing is the yeast. In small amounts its activity is beneficial. It keeps the mass alive.

THE CITY

By Edmund Vance Cooke.

Around me and about me
A million mortals rave,
And hit their heels
Against the cobbled pave.

They flout me and they shout me;
They shriek from quest to quest,
I clank my chains
And rasp my brains
To riot with the rest.

Yet scarce an hour beyond me
I know a half-hushed glade
Of fairy-blooms
And fern-perfumes
And sun-embroidered shade.

Where none may bind or bond me,
Nor any business ban,
Where one might play
The dulcet day
At hide-and-seek with Pan,

A brook slips by concealing
A thousand shy delights;
A moss-soft ledge
Beside its edge Invites me—and invites!

A harmony comes stealing
As from enchanted ground;
A silent song
Age-old, age-long
Which wraps the soul around.

A rhapsody of quiet,
Of pleasure almost pain,
As some wild throat
Flutes forth a note
As sweet as summer rain.

Yet I am of this riot
Of tubes and laddered levels,
Where earth has spewed
Her hunched spew
As hell might brew its devils!

Confessions of a Bride
(Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

Daddy Lorimer sat stiffly in a corner of the auto. For the first time in his strenuous life he found himself unable to cope with circumstances but from his defiant attitude I could see that his spirit had not been broken by the misfortunes of the week. His trials had been extreme: First I had disappeared in a most unaccountable way; Chrys had dropped out of sight just as mysteriously; then Bob had vanished!

Daddy had been forced to accept a single explanation for all of the cases and it was a plausible one. His children had been kidnapped by Mexican outlaws, a revolutionary gang at war with the Mexican government and having no connection whatever with the inhabitants of the hacienda! That was the lie he had been told. He had no idea that the man whose guest he was, his former business partner and best friend, was actually at the bottom of the plot. Certainly might conspire to upset nations but he would never harm his friend. So Daddy Lorimer believed.

Kidnaping, however, was the fashion of the day in Mexico. Naturally the Hon. James D. Lorimer might conclude that he himself was in danger of being carried off with a price on his head. It was so like him to remain on the 37 varieties of political power outside of the government. It was like him to remain where his dear ones had disappeared, with the ransom money ready. There was in his attitude as he sat in the auto, still in ignorance of the fact that Bob and I had been found, a stolid indifference to the seen and unseen forces of evil which surrounded him.

I thought as Bob and I ran to greet him that Daddy Lorimer better than any one I had ever known, could honestly quote:

"I am the master of my fate,
"I am the captain of my soul."

"How can a human being acquire such a tremendous personality?" I asked myself. "I am the answer to my own question was:
"By not fussing and fretting and wearing himself out over petty things. Character is cumulative." And men and women, when they grow old, are beautiful or ugly, hateful or lovable, according as they have builded all the days of their lives."

Daddy Lorimer hadn't treated dear mother just right, I remembered, but in everything else he had moved honestly and openly and directly. Nothing could upset his magnificent poise. His experiences at the hacienda had tried his soul but he was still its master.

The sound of our voices brought him from a deep reverie. He stepped from the auto and hurried to meet us with an exclamation of joy.

"My son! My son!" he said. "My children!" He enclosed Bob and me in a single embrace, then he shook hands with Morrison as if that genial gentleman alone were responsible for the recovery of the footloose but precious pair. Archer and Spence he greeted also—of course he had known Bob's college chums for years—and then his eyes questioned the path we had followed. Bob put his hand on his father's arm.

"Spence and I are going to find her," he said gently. "Believe me, Dad, if Chrys is alive, we'll find her. You are to escort Jane and Archer to the coast."

Daddy Lorimer made a quick gesture of dissent. Bob tapped his father's wrist to emphasize the remainder of the plan.

"Archer is out of it. He needs a nurse. For God's sake get him and Jane aboard the yacht as soon as you can. Morrison can't help you after he gets you to the coast. He has a lot to do in Mexico besides guarding the Lorimer clan. We may need him to help us rescue Chrys, you know."

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
by Olive Roberts Barton

BILL BLACKBIRD TELLS A FIB

Bill Blackbird's plan was this. He thought that if his name came so far down on the bird list that he wasn't going to get out of Scrub-Up-Land until Decoration Day maybe, why he'd pretend he was somebody else and stand a better chance to get away early to the Land Where Spring-Was-Coming.

So he peeped over Nick's shoulder at the big Bird Book with his lovely pictures, which the twins and Rubadub were copying onto the real birds. Right on the page before him was a beautiful bird all orange and black whom he recognized at once. "So that's the person who is to get his freedom next!" cried Bill. "I'll just pretend I'm he, and then I'll get painted up at once. Me for the Land Where Spring-Is-Coming, and the nice, juicy bugs!"

Well, pretty soon, Nick finished coloring Sid Song-Sparrow's gray shirt,

Nick took a good look at Bill, then at the picture in the Bird Book. What's Your Name?" he asked which he fastened on with little brown studs, and handed him his brown cap. "Next," just like they do in your Daddy's barber shop, when it's somebody's turn to get his hair cut. That was Bill's chance! He stepped right up out of line, like you've seen cheeky people do at a ticket window when they haven't any right to at all, and said, "That's me, I guess." He was too much excited to bother with grammar!

Nick took a good look at Bill, then at the picture in the Bird Book. "What's your name?" he asked.

"I'm an oriole," fibbed Bill. "My name's Oliver."

Nick looked at the orange and black picture again. "I guess that's right," he said doubtfully, "but you don't look like it. You must have got awfully dirty down south, Mr. Oriole. Nancy, where's the orange paint?"

REASONABLE.

Daisy: "Of course he didn't! Why do you ask such a question?"

(News Item: New York girl wears wooden hat, thus beating the Dutch by going to the other extreme.)

The wooden hat idea is a fine piece of thinking.

It is economical, also comical.

There being no further use for those tiny beer kegs, it is suggested that former barkeeps and brewers and their best customers knock the bottom out of the keg and call it a hat.

This ought to lessen the demand for high silk hats, which will lower the price for undertaker's quakes, and British bridegrooms.

Mother now seems to have little call for the old-fashioned meat chopping bowl, the butcher doing the chopping for her, so she might as well call it her new spring bonnet.

P. S.—A few curly shavings tacked onto the bowl gives it a nifty appearance.

First they boasted skyhigh the price of men's clothes, then when we fellows thought we'd steal a march on 'em by wearing overalls they went and doubled the overall price.

But, since they've begun selling sugar by the thimbleful there is no more demand for sugar barrels.

Dad and the boys can wear 'em.

"Member that afternoon when the kids swiped your shirt and pants and you had to go home in a barrel?"

Roomy and airy, they are. The best dressers paint pretty pictures on their barrel suits.

In many parts of England it is a belief among the women that rosemary worn about the body strengthens the memory and adds to the success of the wearer in anything she may undertake.

It is told of a physician in a little town in the very far back-woods, and it is absolutely true:

This doctor had taken a charity case. A woman who lived in the

"Here, doctor," she said, "are you little bottles. I took your medicine."

We're the easiest people you ever saw to get up to—you don't have to hand us oranges on the end of a fish-pole. Your only regret will be that you didn't get acquainted with us long before.

Speaking of the scarcity of houses to rent reminds us of the experience of one lady who looked up just 48 leads before she found one she could get, and then she had to take a place and let the old rooster who owned it retain a room or two—just think of all that racing around and telephoning and then not being able to get a whole house for her family. Moral: See Sterling," and buy a home and thus save a lot of time and trouble.

HOW TO GROW FOOD IN YOUR GARDEN

By W. F. Fechner,
Champion War Garden Director of America

When to Plant—There is no set rule to determine the real arrival of spring. The rule of latitude alone can not be relied upon, because altitude exerts a powerful influence in different locations. Philadelphia, which is only about 40 feet above sea-level, has an earlier spring than Denver, with a 5000 feet altitude, though both have the same latitude degree. But here is where nature supplies its own unerring thermometer.

Watch very closely the swelling of the buds of trees and vines, notably grapevines. Whenever the leaf buds of the grape begins to swell and expand spring and planting time is near.

It is better to delay planting a week than to plant a week too soon, because if we plant too soon our plants are apt to become stunted from chilly nights and while they will perhaps live and grow and give some fruit, they rarely give us as much as the plants that grow right off and develop strong and healthy because of more favorable weather and warmer root bed. Of course, there are some few vegetables that can be planted quite early, of which we will speak later.

Where a person wants to take chances on very early vegetables we suggest that if after the plants are up a frost should come and nip some of the leaves, such plants, except in the case of Irish potatoes and onions, had better be replanted at once, as they rarely yield a full crop.

We herewith give a list of three classes of vegetables for planting according to their nature.

For cool weather planting:
In open—Mustard, kale, turnips, spinach, onion sets, Irish potatoes, English peas (smooth).

In cold frame—Lettuce, radishes, kohlrabi, cauliflower, cabbage, Brussels sprouts.

Medium cool weather plantings:
Beets, carrots, radishes, lettuce, kohlrabi, Brussels sprouts, parsley, English peas, (all kinds), endive, corn salad, celeriac, cabbage plants, corn. Warm weather vegetables: Sugar corn, wrinkled peas, beans, tomatoes, egg plants, peppers, cucumbers, squashes, pumpkins, melons, okra etc.

OBITUARY.
ADAM KRUG.
Adam Krug was born December 20, 1840, at his Reihensacken, Germany, and died at his home in Ashton, April 21, 1920, aged 79 years, four months and one day. He came to America in June 1864, and lived variously at Ashton, Amboy, Dixon and Chicago. He was married August 30, 1869, to Christina Schaefer, and for over fifty years lived together, celebrating their golden wedding anniversary last August.

There were born to them 14 children, seven sons and seven daughters. One daughter, Julia, preceded her father to the other world; all the others survive the father. They are George W., Casper, Allen and Mrs. Minnie Delp, of Chicago; Mrs. Christina Gonnerman and Frank, of Dixon; Charles of Franklin Grove, Mrs. Clifford Reed, of Canada, John and Adam of Rochelle, Mrs. Anna Nelson, Charlotte and Mrs. Lizzie Hilliard, of Ashton.

These with the bereaved widow, one brother, Martin, last of the family, 29 grandchildren, and one great grandchild, with other relatives and many friends mourn their loss.

Mr. Krug was a resident of Ashton ever since 1881, excepting four years spent in Chicago. He was a man remarkably well preserved in health, considering his years, and was, up to the last days of his life, accustomed to be about, visiting with his friends and speaking a cheerful word to those he met on the streets.

Even the longest lifetime speeds away, before we realize it. To be wise is to live always in the manner which will serve the world best, and glorify God most. "We spend our days, as a tale that is told."

The funeral services were held Friday afternoon from the late home conducted by Rev. William H. Manshardt pastor of the Presbyterian church. Interment was made in the Ashton cemetery.

The Personal Service You Receive from New York City

In the first years of our business, we went into the New York Market twice each year to buy merchandise for Spring and Fall seasons. At best, such a method is only partly satisfactory. Our determination to render constant, up-to-the-minute service to our patrons made it necessary to open permanent, all-year-round offices in New York City in the very heart of the Eastern Market.

Our New York City office is at 354 Fourth Ave. There we have an adequate number of thoroughly experienced buyers of merchandise. Those men know all the sources of supply in the lines we sell, namely: Dry Goods, Shoes, Ready-to-Wear Clothing and Furnishings for men, women and children. They also know the local requirements of each town, because our local manager is an important counsellor to our New York staff and it is on his judgment that we rely for authentic information as to what we must buy to meet your requirements.

You have every right to feel confident that the merchandise in all our stores is up-to-the-minute in newness; thoroughly good as to quality.

Because of the tremendous amount of merchandise we sell in our Two Hundred and Ninety-seven Stores, our purchase price is bed rock low. Our operating cost is very small. We in turn sell to you at such tiny profits that you are assured utmost economy. It is sheer extravagance to pay higher prices than we ask of you.

Therefore:—For every good and sufficient reason—it will pay you in many ways to buy constantly from

The Cadillac Spirit

There is known in the world of industry, what has come to be called "The Cadillac Spirit."

It pervades the administrative offices it permeates the shops. It diffuses among the production heads; it extends to the workmen at the bench.

It is not a studied, artificial atmosphere. It is rather an influence which comes from the intermingling of kindred spirits, engendered by a sincerity and unity of purpose.

It causes the Cadillac organization to stand out—as one apart.

It implants the principle that the nearly good is not good enough.

It provokes intolerance of the unworthy and the unfit.

It induces the craftsman to appreciate his personal responsibility.

It brings home to him that, like the chain which is no stronger than its weakest link, a product is no better than its weakest element. He knows that one imperfect part impairs the whole.

He is inspired by an eagerness to excel. He glows with pride as he tells of the part he plays.

For seventeen years the Cadillac Spirit has been manifesting itself in the goodness of the Cadillac Car.

And the goodness of the car, in turn, nourishes that spirit in the organization which produces it.

The Cadillac Spirit could come only with the zealous co-operation of those inspired by the same ideal—the production of the highest type of motor car—the car worthy to be known as Standard of the World.

French Prosecution of Socialists Looms

Paris, April 28.—Every unified Socialist of the Chamber of Deputies has come forward in support of Deputy Vaillant Courturier, who on April 23, published in the newspaper Le Populaire, an article addressed to the 1920 class of recruits, which has been considered an effort to incite the troops to disobedience. The article was republished in L'Humanite today, and was subscribed to by the 65 members of the party. Removal of parliamentary immunity so that M. Vaillant Courturier may be prosecuted has been demanded and will be discussed in the chamber today.

Marcel Cachin says in L'Humanite that if criminal proceedings are instituted against the deputy, Minister Steeg, of the department of the interior will have to take similar proceedings against the whole unified Socialist party.

DEVELOPMENT OF AMERICAN TRADE IS BILL'S OBJECT

Senate Measure Will Provide for Merchant Marine

Washington, April 28.—Establishment of an America-first policy for the development of the American Merchant Marine is provided in a bill drafted as a substitute for the House merchant marine bill by the Senate commerce sub-committee and made public today by Chairman Jones, who plans to report it to the full committee tomorrow. Coastwise shipping, the bill provides must be entirely American owned while seventy-five per cent of the stock of corporations engaged in foreign trade must be held by American citizens. Sale of American ships to foreign interests would be prohibited by the bill without the approval of the shipping board, which the act creates.

terstate Commerce Commission from exercising authority already existing to grant preferential rail and water freight rates on exports or imports as well as passenger rates unless American owned vessels were used. Upon the board's recommendations, where American owned ocean transportation facilities are inadequate, the commission would be authorized by the bill, however to suspend this section.

Is Similar to Many.
In providing for the preferential rates, Senator Jones declared the bill only proposed a policy similar to that under which Germany, Japan and other countries have built up their export trade and maintained their shipping.

The bill would place the present government owned merchant fleet under the direction of a shipping board composed of seven members which would be authorized to operate the ships under charter or otherwise and develop foreign trade.

The bill defines the board's policy and directs attention to the fact that the national defense and the proper growth of American commerce require a merchant marine of the best type of ships.

Chicago, April 28.—Edward Landsberg, Chicago brewer, announced today that he had invested a fortune in obtaining new breweries, believing that the United States will not remain as "dry" as it is now.

Landsberg purchased the entire American stockholdings of the Milwaukee and Chicago Breweries Ltd., an English holding company owning all the stock of the United States Brewing company, he said. The American holdings were said to approximate $917,000.

"It is my opinion," he said "that public sentiment eventually will force a more reasonable tolerance of mild alcoholic beverages, and that the present radical national prohibition law will be greatly modified."

The Natural Beauty of Her Hair

WAS a matter of comment and in response to the question as to how she kept it in such wonderful condition she replied:
"Easy enough. I just rub a little SCALPURA on the scalp two or three times a week. That's all."

Why is Your Hair Dull and Lifeless?
The cause is generally to be found in the scalp. If the pores are clogged by dandruff, if the scalp continually itches, if the hair gets thin and faded it is a sure sign of a sluggish circulation and an unhealthy condition.

Beautiful Hair Is a Matter of Care

And therefore possible of attainment by men and women of mature years. The reason why hair becomes dull and old-looking is because the glands of the scalp have been clogged by dandruff, the circulation impeded and the hair deprived of its natural stimulus and nourishment.

SCALPURA softens and cleanses the scalp of all impurities, removes dandruff, stimulates the hair cells and restores the normal circulation of the skin. This naturally results in healthy lustrous hair.
